1. Course Description:
The primary purpose of this course is to analyze the various social issues surrounding sports, such as gender, race and ethnicity, social class, corruption, violence, globalization, commercialization, and international politics. The course will focus on major events in soccer, baseball, basketball, tennis, golf, and American football. We will review literature, documentaries, films, and videos on the Olympics, FIFA World Cup Soccer, the Super Bowl of American football, the World Series of Major League Baseball, the Wimbledon Tennis Championship, and the British and U.S. Opens of golf. This course will introduce statistical information about the games of major professional sports organizations including Major League Baseball (MLB), the National Basketball Association (NBA), the Professional Golf Association (PGA), the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA), the English Premier League (EPL), the Association of Professional Tennis (ATP), and others. We will examine selected game reports published in major daily newspapers including The New York Times and USA Today. We will also review video of games between prominent teams compiled by ESPN, Fox Sports, TNT Sports, and Star Sports Network.
